40 hours per week

We are a leading global provider of the research used by investors and financial institutions to assess the social, environmental, governance and ethical performance of companies.

You'll need to be Japanese speaking. As our Research Analyst you'll join the Finance sector team in our London office and report to the Finance team Research Manager. You will gather, analyse, and disseminate information on Japanese companies and Environmental, Social, and Governance issues. You will also contribute to the research team by analysing Japanese companies in allocated sectors against the Vigeo Eiris research methodology, undertaking key administrative tasks and ensuring the accuracy and quality of research delivered to clients.

You'll be undertaking Japanese company analysis and assessment across all environmental, social and governance (ESG) areas researched by us. You will have a 2:2 degree or equivalent and at least one year's experience of working in a Japanese organisation in Japan using Japanese as the main language, or be Japanese educated up to degree level. Fluent in written and spoken Japanese as well as English, with knowledge of specific ESG issues, in particular issues that are relevant to Financial sectors. You will have experience of research or similar work on Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) or related fields. An effective communicator with the ability to summarise complex material both verbally and in writing with the use of databases, spreadsheets and word processing packages, you'll have the ability to analyse and manipulate data in bulk using Access, Excel or equivalent and to define new queries and lookups.

Joining Vigeo Eiris is a brilliant opportunity to be part of an international organisation, enjoy a great career, in a friendly environment.

EIRIS' London office is based at the award winning Foundry building in Vauxhall. 10 minutes walk from Vauxhall rail and tube and bus stations, and Oval tube station.
