UKSIF LAUNCHES FREE AFFILIATE CATEGORY FOR CHARITY INVESTORS

London, 29 March 2011— Charities with significant investments will be able to get free information and support from UKSIF, the sustainable investment and finance association, following the launch today of UKSIF’s new “Charity Affiliate” category.

The new category is open at no charge to major charitable foundations and other charities with significant investment assets.

The services available will include access to UKSIF’s monthly e-newsletter and invitations to selected UKSIF information and networking events.

Penny Shepherd, UKSIF’s Chief Executive explained that “Charitable foundations and other charity investors increasingly need to keep abreast of developments in sustainable and responsible investment but it can be difficult to justify additional membership fees. This new category will enable them to receive regular information and invitations to selected events at no charge to them.”
