

PRESS RELEASE

Bozena Jankowska appointed to chair UKSIF Analyst Committee

RCM's Global Head of Sustainability Research takes over from Baillie Gifford's Head of ESG Research

London, 30 June 2011 —UKSIF, the sustainable investment and finance association, has appointed Bozena Jankowska, Global Head of Sustainability Research at RCM, to chair its Analyst Committee.

She takes over from Marianne Harper Gow, Head of ESG Research at Baillie Gifford who has reached the end of her term of office.

Penny Shepherd MBE, UKSIF Chief Executive said
“Bozena is highly respected within the responsible investment community and has a depth of experience of the needs of ESG investment analysts. We are delighted that she has agreed to chair our analyst committee.”

The committee oversees UKSIF's support for ESG investment analysts within member organisations, including asset managers, investment banks, and independent research providers. ESG investment analysts use environmental, social and governance information to advise on stocks, bonds and other investment opportunities.
