PRESS RELEASE

UKSIF CALLS FOR CLARITY OVER RESOURCE SECURITY AND GROWTH

Influential trade body joins investor, business and NGO alliance requesting Parliamentary inquiry into halting of Government review

London, 11 July 2013 - The UK Sustainable Investment and Finance Association (UKSIF) today co-signed a letter to the Treasury Select Committee which calls for an inquiry into why senior Treasury economists apparently blocked a major Government review into resource depletion, climate change and UK growth prospects. The letter is signed by a number of major investment institutions, the Aldersgate Group, and Friends of the Earth and also includes a ‘Business Statement’ signed by 46 Aldersgate Group members.

Simon Howard, UKSIF Chief Executive, said:

“Investors need long-term clarity to make the decisions that are vital for sustainable growth. There is overwhelming evidence that resource depletion and climate change present significant risks to UK business and growth prospects. A clearer picture of the way these trends could impact the British economy is necessary for businesses and investors to plan for the long-term in a way which minimises the effects of climate change on UK economic prosperity.

Both investors and businesses take these risks seriously so if a Government review was indeed halted, we deserve a clear explanation as to why. We would urge the Treasury Select Committee to investigate this decision.”

The associated ‘Business Statement’ is signed by 46 members of the Aldersgate Group.
